COTTON MARKET.

Quotations furnished by Miller & Co., members of the New York Stock and Cotton exchanges and New Orleans Cotton Exchange, 1333 F street northwest. New York, Aug. 30 .- Spot sales in Liverpool wer New York, Aug. 30.—Spot sales in Liverpool were 12,000 bales and futures in that market were about 3 points lower. Local trading was nervous at the opening, in consequence of the Journal of Commerce figures of only 1.6 loss in the general condition for the month. Later there was an improvement, but irregularity and nervousness prevailed throughout. Large buying by Liverpool was a feature. Trading was in the main of a professional of the control of th cheracter. There was little in the 'ray of news, but the powers that be are averse to anything like a buil demonstration, as it would like a buil demonstration, as it would show that the commerce condition figures are accepted as pointing to government figures at least as bullish, and the predominance of bullish factors, such as strength of spots and light receipts, cannot fall to bold the market until there is a decided change in both. There is not enough evidence of an adequate supply the state of the predominance of the state of the predominance of the state and Federal authorities to further belligners and light receipts, cannot fall to bold the market until there is a decided change in both. There is not enough evidence of an adequate supply the development, such as failures, the predominance of the predominance of the predominance of the state and Federal authorities to further belligners and there was the predominance of the state and federal authorities to further belligners and the predominance of the predominance of the state and federal authorities to further belligners, and there was the predominance of the state and federal authorities to further belligners, and the predominance of course, and there was the predominance of the state and federal authorities to further belligners, and federal authorities to f higher prices.

Liverpool is due to come Tuesday 1 to 1½ lower.

GAS RULES THE DAY

on Local Exchange.

LANSTON ALSO IN ACTIVE LIST

Much Sparring to Force Up Prices, but Brokers Remain Firm and Holders Are Unable to Sell-Linotype Shares Go Off in Big Lots. Mitchell Mining Bonds Ready.

Washington Gas and Lanston were the active stocks yesterday on the Washington Stock Exchange, and both developed some surprising features in the course

The price of gas was not different from the best of the previous day, selling freely at 70. The significant thing was that brokers were ready to take it in any amount at that figure, but were not inclined to put the price up, believing that with a little patience some of the stock will be forthcoming at 70. One lot was taken at one-eighth above 70, on regular call, and one quotation lot was bought at after call. One option on 100 shares was recorded at 70 and one of 25 at 71%. During the trading several efforts were made to force up the price, the stock being offered in amounts to suit, just above what the supporting brokers were willing to pay. One offer, which apparently came near being taken, was to sell in 25-share lots, from 70 to 80, at 1-8 advance on the price of each lot. would have taken 1,800 shares to fill the sale, and the average price would have been 75. Such a deal would also have temporarily cornered the market, and the buyer would have been comparatively safe in taking it, as he would have realized a profit in selling out all at any price above the mean. The offer was in the nature of a bluff, but it was said at the meeting that one broker was on the point of taking it when some remark made dissuaded him from the venture.

Large Sales of Lanston. Lanston came in for large sales. Much of the stock was wanted, and it went off in lots from 100 to 500 shares, going up half a point on the sales. In all, 1,800 shares changed hands. One sale of Mitchell Mining was made at $2 a share. The Mitchell Mining Company announces that the bonds of the La Dicha and Pacific Rallroad Company wilf be ready for delivery by the Guar dian Trust Company, 170 Broadway, New York City, on Tuesday, September 3, in cluding payment of September interes
